Basic

Back to Beautiful Basics

Basic is an embodiment of a rational economy of materials — evidence that, with thoughtful design and manufacturing, we can maximize the value of each resource used, elevate quality and durability, and truly create more from less.

Designed by esteemed father-and-son team Miguel and Gonzalo Milá for Barcelona-based Urbidermis, Basic prioritizes the essentials. The line represents an unrelenting dedication to comfort, lightness and durability, stripping away all that is unnecessary to create pieces that find beauty in functionality. The design language is clean, refined and softly industrial, intended to bring subdued sophistication to settings both urban and natural, modern and traditional.

Basic Bench

Crafted solely from cast and extruded aluminum, the Basic bench strikes an ideal balance between comfort, light weight and robust construction. It's designed to provide adaptability with enduring elegance, able to confidently withstand intensive use, repeated reconfiguration and time spent in the elements. Available in backed and backless styles, the Basic bench is composed of softly rounded extruded aluminum slats firmly affixed by two symmetrical die-cast aluminum support structures.

Basic Table

Showcasing the same material and ergonomic qualities as the Basic bench, the Basic table is again an expression of how an astute economy of design can create an elevated lightweight result. Generously sized with broad tabletop real estate, the Basic table comfortably gathers groups in settings like outdoor hospitality destinations, campuses and multi-family residential developments where the need for adaptability is joined by the demands of heavy use and adverse weather conditions.

Efficiency By Design

The Basic line embodies efficiency in all its attributes — from design, to manufacturing, to utility, maintenance and user experience. Lightweight, all-aluminum construction means Basic elements are not only easier to handle by users in situ, but also more efficient to transport and more sustainable to manufacture. Thoughtful flatpack design further reduces emissions due to shipping and transportation, while still coming together intuitively and with minimal fasteners. Finished with Landscape Forms' proprietary Pangard II ® polyester powdercoat in a wide variety of artful colors, Basic benches and tables offer industry-leading surface durability and color retention with low-to-no maintenance. And due to its 100% recyclable, mono-material design, Basic simplifies the sustainable reuse of materials at the end of a long, beautiful and useful life.
